Description

Charming Renovated Country House for Sale in Bullas, Murcia, with 6500 m² of Land

This enchanting country house for sale in Bullas, Murcia offers approximately 180 m² of built area on a beautiful 6500 m² plot, surrounded by nature, tranquillity and open countryside views. Recently renovated while preserving the character of a traditional Spanish finca, the property features 4 bedrooms, 2 bathrooms, abundant natural light and an exceptional rural lifestyle.

The heart of the home is its welcoming open-plan lounge and kitchen, where generous windows with shutters create bright interiors and a wonderful connection with the surrounding landscape. The traditional kitchen includes a wood-fired oven, while central heating with smart-home control and a pellet stove provide year-round comfort. The property has been carefully renovated and is ready to be enjoyed, while retaining its authentic country charm. Orientation and furniture details are to be confirmed.

Outside, the approximately 6500 m² plot becomes an extension of the home. Olive and almond trees grow alongside fig, apple, persimmon and other fruit trees, creating a genuine Mediterranean country lifestyle. The current owners even produce enough olive oil from the property's trees for their own household and harvest almonds for traditional homemade cakes and sweets. A wooden storage and tool house provides useful additional space for maintaining the land.

The property is situated in the peaceful countryside surrounding Bullas, an area of inland Murcia known for its natural landscapes, vineyards, traditional Spanish character and outdoor lifestyle. The nearby River Mula and natural bathing areas offer wonderful opportunities to enjoy nature and the water during the warmer months, while the village of Bullas provides everyday amenities within easy reach.

For buyers seeking a country property in Murcia, this home has excellent potential as a permanent residence, second home or rural lifestyle investment. Its combination of renovated accommodation, substantial private land, mature productive trees and an exceptionally peaceful setting makes it particularly attractive to international buyers searching for an authentic alternative to coastal living.

Despite its wonderfully private atmosphere, the house remains close to Bullas and the River Mula, combining rural tranquillity with convenient access to local services and recreational areas. Exact driving distances to the village, coast, airports and other key destinations can be added once confirmed.
